FLIGHT TECHNIQUES (1)

Various kinds of techniques are necessary to operate your aircraft. Here are some of the operational instructions and technical advice.

HOW TO SHOOT

Here you will learn how to survive through a mission.

1. CONFIRM THE TARGET

Find the target with the ground map or radar. The red marks are the targets, the white marks are non-target enemies. Because the enemies and your fighter plane are always moving, you must accelerate to catch up with them, or wait for the enemies to come closer. Unless the radar is used efficiently, you cannot react to situations immediately.

2. UNDERSTANDING THE MOVEMENT OF THE ENEMY

The arrow indicator shows the position of the enemy when they are near. You want to follow the arrow indicator and bring the enemy into your view. The target site appears when the enemy is on the screen.

3. LOCK-ON

When setting the enemy in the missile range circle, the missile seeker appears and seeks for the target automatically. Your missiles cannot seek enemies out of the missile's range, even if the enemies are on the screen. You must accelerate and get close to the enemy. The lock-on is successful when the missile seeker and the target sight are aligned and the cursor becomes red. At that moment, launch your missile.

As long as you get close to the enemy and bring them within the missile's range, the missile seeker will automatically lock-on to the target.

BE CAREFUL WITH NON-TARGETS

Not all the fighter planes and the ground objects are the enemies. There are some non-target objects that you are not supposed to attack. So, if you study the enemies carefully in the briefing, you should just focus on hitting the enemies.

MACHINE GUNS

When you run out of missiles or confront enemies where your missiles cannot lock-on, you must use machine guns. The machine guns have unlimited bullets. However, the machine guns have a shorter range and much less power. It will take much longer to destroy the target, so you need to get close to the target. Just be careful when attacking and be ready to take some damage. Don't give up, fight it out in a dog-fight!

FLIGHT TECHNIQUE (2)

YAWING AND ROLLING

The biggest difference in the Novice and the Expert mode is the turning. You can only turn and naturally roll in the Novice mode, but in the Expert, you can yaw and roll depending on the situation. With the combination of yaw and roll, you can actually feel what a real flight situation is like. To become an expert pilot, you must distinguish when to use the yaw and roll.

NOVICE

Turning: Your fighter plane automatically rolls towards the direction of the Directional button.

EXPERT

Yawing: Press either the L2 button or R2 button to turn horizontally.

Roll: Tilt the fighter plane first by using the RIGHT or LEFT Directional button, then use the UP or DOWN Directional button to roll. This is actually a series of operations. Practice this to master rolls!

BASIC STRATEGY

The basic strategy for dog fighting is to attack from behind. However, enemies are usually chasing after you, so in most cases, you and the enemy will continuously circle each other. The key to solve this problem is to make a small turns. If you fly too fast, your turn radius will be too large, allowing the enemies to easily follow you.

AVOID MISSILES BY TURNING QUICKLY.

To avoid missiles, do not fly unsteadily. Just dodge the missiles with quick turns. If you try to escape from a missile, it becomes easier for the enemies to catch up with you. All you can do in this situation is to accelerate up to the maximum speed and turn.

MAKE A LOOP AND STAY BEHIND

When enemies are chasing you, get behind the enemy to reverse the situation. This technique is called "Loop" and is actually easy to do. To loop, accelerate, climb, and continue climbing until you flip 360 degrees. You must continue to accelerate, otherwise the loop will not work. Try not to slow down while using this technique.

Depending on the enemy level, this technique might not always work. However, to become a better pilot, you must learn how to use the loop technique and learn how to fight from all angles.

ADJUST YOUR SPEED TO STAY BEHIND THE ENEMY!

HINTS

The main factor of the game is to win battles and complete missions. However, there are other ways to enjoy this game.

Achieve the highest emblem:

As you destroy enemies, you receive an emblem. Try to finish the mission as fast as possible or with the highest score to attain a better emblem.

Collect Medals:

When certain enemies are destroyed, you receive medals. You may be able to purchase a new aircraft that you previously could not have obtained. Try to get those new fighters!

Hidden Missions:

If you destroy targets that are not designated in the mission, hidden missions may appear.
